The Nautilus

1934

*Build thee more stately mansion,
O my soul
As the swift seasons roll!
Leave thou low-vaulted past!
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea.*

JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL
Lafayette, Indiana

Foreword

Another year has rolled by and another Nautilus is in your hands. May you find in its pages a history of your high school days, that will not only please you now, but in later life will bring back precious memories of happy hours spent at Jefferson.

Dedication

Morris E. McCarty

To the man whose fearless spirit has dominated every forward movement at Jefferson High School, we respectfully dedicate this Nautilus.

MORRIS E. McCARTY

Superintendent and Principal

Two years as a teacher, giving his best in the class room, and then he became principal of Jefferson High School; two years as principal of remarkable ability and he was appointed Superintendent of the Lafayette Public Schools—such is the story of Morris E. McCarty's rise to leadership. To the efficacy of his management the Lafayette Public School system owes its place among the most efficient schools of the state.

OUR FACULTY

Once they were Seniors, lofty and pedantic,
Regarding all with bright appraising eyes.
And they were fiery Juniors too, romantic,
Pleasure-bent and gay as butterflies.
They even have been Sophomores, remote
And awkward, groping anxiously to find
Some pleasing vocal utterance for the throat,
Some concord of the body and the mind,
Now they are teachers, dealing bit by bit
Knowledge designed to make the mind to grow,
They show us how to rise and reach for it,
They rose and reached and fell and rose, and so
They have some fellow-feeling when we fall.
They're just grown-up freshmen after all.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1934

One day while fishing in a river deep and cool
I fell asleep—it was so shady near the pool.

I was taken back in my dreams to September, nineteen hundred and thirty. A familiar building loomed into sight. I saw two sturdy boys—now outstanding athletes—timidly enter. They looked up and down the halls for an elevator or some such convenience—not as if they had had four years experience. Others, more like grade school children, gazed with wonder at the confident seniors.

A few months passed. Some of these boys and girls had already made themselves known—playing mostly on intramural teams, proudly displaying new band uniforms, or acting and singing. Others neither athletic nor musical did their part in making Jeff known through their success in intellectual contests.

In fact there were representatives in so many fields that as these green freshmen made up a very capable class. I saw sophomores as potential material for supporting teams of all sorts. Those who could not take an active part in contests showed their loyalty by attending them and cheering for “dear old Jeff.” I saw girls, now taking on the appearance of sophisticated high school students, taking major parts in plays, becoming active in their societies as well as vamping all the

JUNIORS

I was carried into the Junior year with a whirl. I was attending games on the gridiron and basketball court where the names of Juniors were being starred as a result of their hard practice. I saw the names of Juniors on the track squad as well as the golf and tennis teams. Future journalists were making the class known on the Booster and Nautilus staffs. The musical members were upholding our class by honors won in the band contest. I was even taken to the Junior-Senior picnic which was such a success due to our cooperation with the

SENIORS

Now that these pals had managed to reach the topmost round of their ladder they were ready to assume the air of authority which was justly theirs after three years of hard work for such glory. With Andrew Crowe as president, Edward Kory as vice-president, and Jack Nelson, secretary, this year, although too quickly ended, was the most pleasant.

During the year our class was outstanding in athletics, debate, oratory, dramatics, as well as representing a good part of the honor roll.

The committees appointed made the always-looked-forward-to Senior Dance, Junior-Senior picnic, and all the other social functions a great success.

Some day when I return once more to that river cool and deep
And fall asleep—I hope again to review these memories sweet.

DON GOODMAN.

Junior Class History

"Where's 214?"

"Where's 322?"

"Where's 109?"

Such were the queries of the 1931 preps, the egotistical juniors of today. They descended upon our dear old Jeff with what they considered a most sophisticated air, but upon entering the building which was dominated by the self-satisfied, know-it-all seniors, they shrank with fear as preps have always done through the ages. Having bought the usual group of convo seats and elevator tickets, they finally settled down and with few casualties got through the first year.

During their second year nothing unusual happened, only the customary failures and a few of the class becoming too over-bearing for sophomores. But as a whole the class was easily managed by the over-worked study hall teachers.

They are now juniors marking time, patiently waiting for the day when they will become high and mighty seniors. Then they may look condescendingly on the insignificant under-classmen and wonder how anyone could possibly be so dumb.

Well, now, dear juniors study hard and someday you may be seniors possessing a much cherished sweater with a "35." You may then put on the important airs that show you have reached the coveted goal.

FRESHMEN

Into our halls of learning timidly
 They crept, and stared with startled eyes thereat
 Saw seniors strutting in their majesty
 And wondered if they'd ever be like that.
 Soon they learned to make a few decisions
 Without assistance from their dads and mammas,
 They learned to grin at upper class derision
 Some even found out where to put their commas.
 A few short trips to Math and Latin class,
 A few galloping gymnastic steps,
 A boy or two at ball games, and alas—
 We begin to lose our little preps.
 For they put on that yes—I—know—demeanor
 And you can hardly tell one from a senior.

—BESSIE M. MARLIN.

The Nautilus staff has labored conscientiously to make this volume a complete record of all that our splendid school has achieved this year in activities, organizations, athletics, and scholastic ability.

Tradition dictates that the school annual should be a pictorial record of the events of the school year. In turning these pages we hope you will not only find this record, but may the book recall memories of happy days spent at dear old Jefferson High.

The staff is grateful to all teachers and students who have cheerfully assisted with the task of editing this book.

Be to its virtues ever kind,
 , And to its faults a little blind.

During the first semester the number of subscribers to the Jeff Booster, the high school chronicle, including advertisers and exchanges amounted to approximately six hundred and fifty.

Much of the credit for the success and popularity belongs to the staff for the first semester. They worked hard to bring the paper to the interest of the student body.

The paper is printed in the Jeff Print Shop and is published with the able cooperation of the advertisers.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

Sponsor	Miss Irma Slayback
President	Marjorie Poor
Vice-President	Helen Kline
Secretary-Treasurer	Roberta Phillips

The purpose of the Sunshine Society is best expressed by its creed:

"With love in my heart, forgetting self, and charity for all, I will make the object of my life, helpfulness and kindness to others. I shall try to fit myself to give intelligent service in the community in which I live. Thus will my life be rich and complete." This helpful creed each girl in high school repeats as she becomes a member of the Sunshine Society.

To those who are in need of food and clothing this band of cheerful workers extends a helping hand. With the invaluable help of Miss Slayback the organization is able to accomplish much toward aiding others. A meeting is held the third Thursday in each school month.

The necessary money needed for the great amount of charity carried on by the Sunshine Society is raised in various ways. Candy is sold every noon and each afternoon after school on the first floor of the building. Many girls also enjoy selling candy at the basketball and football games as well as at different school plays held each year. In this manner the Sunshine Society is able to carry on its worthwhile work.

HISTORY CLUB

Sponsor.....	Miss Wilma Fletemeyer
President	Paul Brassie
Vice-President	Marjorie Silverman
Secretary-Treasurer	Dorothy Pfrommer

The History Club was organized five years ago with Miss Fletemeyer as the sponsor. The purpose of the club is to create an interest in history. During the past year the club has boasted of one of the largest groups that it has ever known. It has had many interesting meetings among which Harry Kazey, student at Purdue and formerly of Jeff, gave a very interesting talk on Germany as he saw conditions while visiting there last summer.

Mrs. Roy Street charmingly entertained the club with a review of the book, "I Would Live It Again," an autobiography by Mrs. Julia Benson Foraker. Miss Edna Ruby gave interesting details from her book about the home of Lafayette in France. She had visited the home and told of its beauty, of famous words and works of Lafayette, and of his ancestors.

This year for the first time in its history, the club framed a constitution. The club hopes to have a picnic again at some interesting historical spot. It has been proud of its work this year and looks forward to even bigger and better times in the future.

GIRLS' ADVISORY COUNCIL

Sponsor.....	Miss Estella Kimmel
President	Elizabeth Pyke
Vice-President	Eleanor Ross
Secretary	Clarice Speer
Treasurer	Margaret Timberlake

The Girls' Advisory Council was organized in 1921 with Miss Kimmel as sponsor.

It's purpose is to develop leadership and initiative, to offer service to the school, and to cooperate with all its activities. Some of the most prominent girls of the school are chosen if they have twelve credits and are suggested by four of their teachers.

During the year the club holds two meetings a month. It is the custom of the club to give a tea for the teachers and a breakfast on Mother's Day for the mothers. The members serve as office and library scouts and at Christmas time the Sunshine Society is assisted in its charity work by the Girls' Advisory Council.

At every meeting the following creed is given by one of the girls:

"I will put my best efforts in each day's task. I will not forget that poverty and riches are of the spirit. Although the world knows me not, I shall endeavor to make my thoughts and actions such as shall keep me friendly with myself and neighbors. I shall not follow the clamor of the world but shall walk calmly in the path allotted to me. Then will my friends love me for what I am and I shall make the world a better place by my example."

FORENSIC CLUB

Sponsors.....	V. C. Rogers, Loy C. Laney
President	Sal Palma
Vice-President	George W. Smith
Secretary	Donald Goodman
Treasurer	John Minier

The purpose of the Forensic Club is to furnish an opportunity for speaking and practising parliamentary procedure.

About fifty students assembled for the organization of the 1933-34 Forensic Club at a meeting held early in the first semester. The above named officers were elected for the coming year.

Business meetings of the club were held once a month in the auditorium. Among several outstanding features of the year's program was a Christmas party at which the members exchanged gifts and gave presentation and acceptance speeches. Another feature was an interesting talk by Mr. Robert Mohlman, a member of the Indiana Legislature, on parliamentary procedure. At this meeting officers of the other high school organizations were guests of the Forencists.

A spring picnic featuring speech-making and refreshments was another highly enjoyable part of the year's program.

DEBATE AND ORATORY

Sponsors Loy C. Laney, V. C. Rogers

Debating this year took on many new aspects in the high school. Keen competition and great interest was shown. Eighteen students were on the teams.

During the season twenty-five debates were held. Eleven of these were non-decision and fourteen were decision. Of the decision debates Jeff won nine and lost five.

The pre-district debates were held with the following schools: Delphi, Oxford, Anderson, Eaton, Rushville, Frankfort, Huntington, Marion, Greentown, Wiley of Terre Haute, Elwood, West Lafayette, Mishawaka, and the freshman team of DePauw University.

District debates were held with Crawfordsville, Oxford, Fowler, and Ladoga.

Outstanding features of the season were the tournament at Anderson, triangular at Marion, and the debate with the freshmen at DePauw.

Jefferson was represented in the Central Indiana Oratorical Contest in November by Pequetti Helton, who won first place—a medal for herself and a cup for the school—in the girls' contest, and by Sal Palma who placed second in the boys' contest.

Charles Rainey will represent Jefferson in the State Discussion League in the district contest at Lafayette April 23rd.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Sponsor.....	Miss Lillian Congleton
President	Linda Lee Eskridge
Vice-President	Lucy Demoret
Secretary	Jean Kaufman
Treasurer	Muriel Plank

The French Club holds a regular meeting each month in the school year. The meetings are held at the homes of the members where the formal atmosphere of the classroom is exchanged for a more informal one.

The purpose of Le Cercle Francais is to stimulate interest in French and to promote conversational fluency.

Programs and the announcements of the officers are given in French. In the past year the officers have endeavored to make these programs as typically French as possible.

Several short dialogues given by the members illustrated home and school life in France. Anyone who has laughed over "Three Little Mice" would have been equally amused at the efforts of this group to sing the French round, "Frere Jacques." Several articles were given from the French newspapers Le Petit Journal and La Vie.

The informality of environment at the French Club meetings makes the student feel more free to express himself in his newly acquired language; thus, a practical value is obtained from membership in the club.

CIRCUS LATINUS

Sponsor.....	Miss Mae Hanna
President	John Tweedie
Vice-President	William Sanders
Secretary	Olive Schatzley
Treasurer	Katherine Pultz

Many students responded enthusiastically to the Circus Latinus this year.

The purpose of the club is to give the Latin students a deeper and finer insight into the nation of antiquity that has furnished us the basis of our own language, laws, government, literature, and customs.

The creed is:

1. I believe in Latin, because it develops the memory, the reason, the judgment, and the imagination.
2. I believe in Latin, because it develops observation, accuracy, and concentration of mind and thus lays the foundation for success in business or professional life.
3. I believe in Latin, because, through translation, it trains one to express himself in English with clearness and force; it is also an indispensable requisite for civic influence.
4. I believe in Latin, because it familiarizes one with the history and the thought of the greatest nation of antiquity.
5. I believe in Latin, because there is no other school study so strong in combination as this, of thorough mental discipline, acquaintance with the language and civilization at the basis of our own, and the ability to express one's views convincingly.

Membership is limited to upperclassmen and 9 A's with a B average. The programs pertain to the life and custom of the Roman people. During the social hour songs are sung in Latin; games played, and contests held.

A German Club was organized in Jefferson High School at the beginning of the fall semester. The members decided to name the club "Der Deutsche Verein." The purpose of the organization is to increase the student's knowledge of German customs, literature, and music and to enable the students to converse in German.

Membership is open to students of German in all advanced classes and to beginners who have A grades.

Business meetings are held the second Monday after school and social meetings on the fourth Monday at seven o'clock at the homes of members.

Programs are devoted to German games, folk songs, and whenever possible people living in this community who are interested in German are obtained as speakers.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Sponsors	Miss Irma Slayback, Miss Gleela Ratcliffe
President	Annabelle Jones
Vice-President	Mildred Johnson
Secretary	Mary Louise Miller
Treasurer	Mary Schnaible

The Home Economics Club was organized in the fall of 1929 and affiliated with the State and National Home Economics Association.

The club adopts a special theme for its yearly programs. This year the theme has been "Making the Most of Our Home Economics Department" and a project has been started to improve the appearance of the housekeeping unit between the sewing and cooking laboratories.

The club strengthens the interest in home economics and helps to develop leadership in its members. Picnics, parties, and teas give the members experience in social activities.

The Home Economics pin is the highest honor which may be awarded to any club member. It stands for the finest ideals of the club. The Betty Lamp stands for the highest type of living and the happiest type of a real home, also the ideals of a perfect body, a keen mind and a Christian-like spirit.

"To find and give the best"

There is in Jefferson High School an organization which endeavors to find and to give of the best in life. The members of the Tri-Y Girl Reserve, with the aid of their energetic and capable sponsors, Miss Aldridge, Miss Marlin, and Mrs. Skomp, have, through the work of this past year, enriched their own lives and made the lives of others happier.

During the Christmas season the girls sponsored a party for approximately sixty under-privileged children of Lafayette. Earlier in the year a Halloween party was held. The different meetings of the Club are given over to the study of books, music, and to other subjects which are interesting, and which broaden the lives of the members. Several hikes were taken during the year to points of interest in the community.

A part of each meeting of the club is given over to devotions. The Girl Reserve strives to make more beautiful, spiritually, mentally, and physically, the lives of its members. The aim of the members of the Girl Reserve is to "face life squarely," and to find in life "the peace and joy that come through service for others and fellowship with Christ."

President	Opal Luce
Vice-President	Eugene Pope
Secretary	Edna Carter
Treasurer	Mildred McGhehey

The purpose of the Commercial Club is to promote the interests of the commercial students and to bring about a closer relationship between the students and the business world into which they expect to enter. As usual, the Commercial Club has sponsored Jefferson's participation in the State Commercial contest by paying entrance fees and expenses of contestants.

Various parties, convocations, and other social activities have been indulged in; the seventh annual roller skating party being the outstanding event.

The inter-school commercial contest at Central Normal College, Danville, Indiana, was an added incident in Jefferson's many successful competitions.

MASTER MACHINISTS' CLUB

Sponsor.....	H. J. Wills
President	Joe Schilling
Vice-President	Cecil Siple
Secretary	James Jennings
Treasurer	Bernard Cooper

The Master Machinists' Club of Jefferson High School is proud of its record for 1933-34.

Shortly after Christmas vacation, the die that makes the "J" watch fob and purse decorations of polished brass was completed. Club members were proud wearers of the first to be punched out on the huge twenty-five ton press at Purdue University. Later more of these J's were given out to the student body in general.

The 1934 state meeting of the Indiana Industrial Education Association was held April 6 and 7 and club members helped play host by acting as guides and placing the state exhibit on display. Some four hundred Industrial teachers were entertained and many favorable comments were heard about the shops in Jefferson High School.

The informal Christmas party given at the home of Cecil Siple will long be remembered by club members. Games, music and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Several motion pictures and field trips of interest to machine shop work were sponsored by the club this year.

Club members willingly aided in the staging of some of the convocations and plays given, and helped to promote a better spirit of cooperation in making Jefferson one of the best schools in the state.

The Studio Club is one of the oldest clubs at Jeff. It was organized twenty years ago and since that time many talented students in the art classes have kept this organization active in creating higher art standards, promoting art appreciation and stimulating more interest in contemporary modern artists, especially painters and sculptors of Indiana. The club members excel in one line or another in the various fields of art.

The club is always anxious to co-operate with school activities in planning and making decorations, posters, signs, place-cards, etc. They often assist the Nautilus staff in their work.

In February the club sponsored an exhibit of one hundred and fifty reproductions of famous works of the masters. The exhibit was interesting to the entire student body and was a worthwhile project.

The Studio Club recognized art talent in Jefferson students and is proud of John Swaney, a Freshman who had three entries in the Exhibit of Lafayette Artists this year.

For recreation the club had a social affair "unique" once a month.

Treasurer.....	Louis Silance

The Crispus Attucks Hi-Y club has been in existence for three years. The club was organized through the untiring efforts of Mr. Carver and Mr. Brown. On account of the small membership the club has been working greatly handicapped. The membership has grown from six members in 1931 to ten members at the present time.

The club is just finishing a successful year. The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school year high ideals of Christian character. The Hi-Y Gospel team and quartet has had a very successful year. The basketball team has also had an eventful year.

The purpose of the Junior Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, a high standard of Christian character.

The Junior Hi-Y of Jefferson High School was reorganized at the beginning of the school year in September, 1933. Under the capable leadership of its sponsor, Milton Leverenz, several activities were promoted which were carried to a successful conclusion. The principal objective of the club is to develop a strong fellowship and to help each member to lift every activity he finds himself engaged in to a little higher level. The club program seeks to touch every phase of a high school boy's life.

Its high ideals are clearly set forth in the club platform: clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship and clean living.

Any freshman or sophomore who is a boy of good character and is interested in the purpose and activities of this club may become a member. Meetings were held each Tuesday evening throughout the school year and were well attended.

Treasurer	Paul Bauer

Five years ago the Senior Hi-Y was organized and since that time has been faithfully carrying on its purpose: To create, maintain and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community.

The Senior Hi-Y basketball team went through their season undefeated. A gospel team was organized. Each Tuesday night during the school year the Senior Hi-Y has had interesting and educational meetings. An excellent schedule of social events and talks by outstanding speakers was arranged by the program committee and enjoyed by the entire membership.

At Christmas time the Senior Hi-Y worked with the co-operation of the entire school collecting old newspapers. The proceeds were used for charity purposes through the Sunshine Society and the Journal-Courier Christmas fund.

President	Jack Nelson
Vice-President	Milton J. Brush, Jr.
Secretary	Elwin Gingrich
Treasurer	John Hutzler

The Tuxis Hi-Y has had one of its most successful clubs during the past school year. Under the able guidance of Mr. Marshall and Mr. Carver the club has become one of the most outstanding in the school. It has received state wide recognition.

During the past school year the club has sponsored a football banquet, a basketball banquet, and Foxwell, the young magician. They joined with the other Hi-Y clubs and the Girl Reserves in an early morning service during the week of Prayer. For the last few years the club has taken an active part in the Older Boy's Conference and the State Hi-Y Officers Conference.

The club is represented by its members in all school activities. It is composed of twenty members from the junior and senior classes.

The purpose of the club is to create and maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. The platform is clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship and clean living.

The Boys' Glee Club is a selective group of boys who have had a good many musical engagements this year. Early in the first semester they put on an entire convocation program. This was repeated at Congress Street Church. They have also appeared at Parent-Teacher's Association meetings and took a prominent part in the Musical Comedy.

THE BAND

Jefferson High School is indeed fortunate in having a spirited and loyal group of boys in its Band, and the marked improvement this year was made possible only through the diligent effort of each member and the excellent work of the director, Mr. B. A. McAdams.

This year the Band played for all the home football games, and its letter formations before each game were truly appreciated.

Besides playing for all of the home basketball games, the Band was invited to play for Purdue's games held in the Jefferson Gym—this was quite an honor and again the boys rose to the occasion by holding extra rehearsals. Many compliments were given the Band on its performances. The flattering remark was heard—"the Purdue band has new uniforms."

It is difficult to predict just what the outcome of the state contest for 1934 will be, but regardless of the showing, the close cooperation of the School Board and every member of the Band warrants first place. Perhaps a few other schools may have a better musical organization as far as performance is concerned, but none can possibly surpass our spirit.

Mrs. Liddy	Jessie Graham
Tommy Shannon	Karl Mueller

Dramatization of "A Widow in Green" by Lea Freeman was presented by the senior class this year. With the excellent aid of Mrs. Lelah Clark as director and the co-operation of Mr. Kenzler and Miss Ida J. Fleming, the play was successfully given February twenty-first and twenty-second.

The plot unfolded the complicated love affair of an old maid, Miss Sue Johnson, with an experienced man of the world, Mr. Thomas Shannon. While two young lovers, The Harkness Girl and The Whitford Boy, added romantic atmosphere to the situation; two nosy, busy bodies, Lady Rumley and Mr. Heddelty, brought the play to an unexpected climax. With the help of the maid, Angelica, and a servant, Henry, the story was happily concluded.

Those Fleeting Years

Outside, the snow was falling steadily, its ethereal whiteness contrasting sharply with the midnight blue of the sky. Inside, the lamp shed a reddish ray over the room. A woman sat alone on the davenport, the green cushions making a lovely background for her auburn hair, the lamp light casting a halo around her head. At her feet nestled a young girl.

"Tell me more, Mother," she begged. "Tell me all about your high school days."

This beautiful lady was my mother, but she may have been yours, or it may be you twenty-five years hence.

High school and its wonderful memories! What a host of thoughts and thrills this sentence brings!

The scared little prep, who walks through the halls on his first day, who just before he entered the building felt so-o-o-o-o big, now wants to hide. This mammoth school frightens him. It is so spacious. Everyone is with a friend. He is alone. Ah, here comes a nice looking boy who seems willing to be friends. The big sophomore confronts Willie (as he was known in grade school.)

"Hi, kid! Listen, how'd you like to buy a "convo" seat on the very first row? I can sell it to you much cheaper than anyone else. How about it?"

Little Willie, proud that he has been noticed by this big fellow with the nice grin (which will later let escape a loud guffaw), buys a ticket for the seat.

"Thanks, kid. Say, what's your name?"

"William Smith," answered our palpitating hero.

"Well, goodbye, Bill. I'll be seein' ya."

Oh, weep for the mournless death of Willie; be joyful at the proud birth of Bill!

A whole year passes, a year filled with studying to make the honor roll. Now Bill Smith is a sophomore! Walking through the halls with steady feet, on solid ground, chest thrown out, head held high, he is no longer a "prep"! Now he'll show them! Enter Bill Smith, the smart-aleck sophomore!

"Hey, Bill. Let's skip this afternoon."

"O. K. with me, Red. Who cares if we get caught? Say, there's a swell show at the Arc, Wild West n' Everything."

Would little Willie Smith have answered thus a year ago? Ah, but Willie Smith is now Bill Smith, the sophomore. Bill has a package of cigarettes hidden in his pocket. Bill swaggers by the girls. Bill wisecracks his teachers. Bill "ponies." Bill is a sophomore! Bill takes all his finals.

The second year flies by on glamorous wings. The junior year—hail the upper classman! As an upper classman, his ideas have changed still further. As an upper classman, Bill has added prestige. The little golden haired "prep" with blue eyes, thinks there is nothing so wonderful as an upper classman. Bill carries Mary's books home after school unless he is practicing football. Bill is a "sub" on the team! Now he has to study,—not for Mother (now Mom), not to beat the fellows, but because he is an upper classman.

Greet the graduating Senior! He is passing through the last stage of his high school life. Sh-h-h-h, here he comes with—can I believe my own eyes? Can this be Bill Smith, our Bill Smith with his nose playing peek-a-boo with the pages of thick, concentrated book? Alas,—it is, but why? Ah, have you forgotten? Bill is now a snooty, studious, selfish, know-it-all senior. Why, he owns the world, therefore he has to read about it. The senior year at high school, the pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow, has been reached!

Outside the snow still falls. Inside the dimly lit room mother and daughter remain silent, their eyes filled with tears as dear memories of their high school days flit about in the shadows.

CHARLOTTE SEGAL, '34.

Beautiful Things

Beautiful faces are those that wear—
It matters little if dark or fair—
Whole souled honesty printed there.

Beautiful eyes are those that show,
Like crystal panes, where hearth-fires glow,
Beautiful thoughts that burn below.

Beautiful lips are those whose words
Leap from the heart like songs of birds,
Yet whose utterance prudence girds.

Beautiful hands are those that do
Work that is earnest, and brave, and true,
Moment by moment, the day through.

Beautiful feet are those that go
On kindly ministries to and fro,
Down lowliest ways, if God wills it so.

Beautiful shoulders are those that bear
Ceaseless burdens of homely care,
With patient grace and daily prayer.

Beautiful lives are those that bless—
Silent rivers of happiness,
Whose hidden fountains but few may guess.

Beautiful twilight at set of sun;
Beautiful goal, with race well won;
Beautiful rest, with work well done.

Beautiful graves, where grasses creep,
Where brown leaves fall, where drifts lie deep
Over worn-out hands—oh, beautiful sleep!

Whistling—The Immortal Art

Whistling—the immortal art; I say immortal because how could such shrieks as emitted by most of humanity, when they indulge in the so-called whistling, be called earthly; and I say art because according to the best authorities, “all else passes, art alone endures.” Why else would this nerve-racking occupation have endured so long?

By definition, whistling is an ill wind that nobody blows good. Woe unto the lad who gulps down three of his largest fingers, and with a mighty gasp draws into his lungs, buckets of air used in hurling forth a blast which has the power of a steam engine, the loudness of a siren, and the penetrability of a pig’s squeal. It is he who fulfills the definition to its ’umpteenth degree. It is he who causes the very skeleton to shudder and shiver beneath the skin.

To say that this is the only type of whistle enjoyed by humanity would be an injustice to the majority of high school lads who go about with lips puckered and faces twisted, making the halls sound like a gulls’ rookery.

There is the rosy, apple-cheeked whistle that goes merrily along, inserting a lilt here and a variation there, until the tune is a mere jumble and completely unrecognizable even to its composer; and there is the soft, serene whistle which picks for its theme a mellowed old favorite to float upon the breeze like the fuzz of the cottonwood in autumn. Ah, yes, these are truly beautiful whistles—if only they were in tune.

As practiced by the birds, whistling is a marvelous achievement, and one full of many possibilities; but as maltreated by the lips of humanity;—it is awful, in accordance with the fullest meaning of the word. And until the time comes when man equals bird in pouring forth his song, whistling will ever remain an immortal art.

TRIVIA

(With Apologies to Logan Persall Smith)

STARDUST

It gets so tiresome being the same person all the time. I'd like to be able to be something else whenever I wanted to. I wish I could be the wind. I'd cool the hot countries and warm the cold ones, I'd blow the roof off all the schools. I'd like to be queen just for one day. I want to be a cow-boy and sleep under the stars all alone. There's lots of things I'd like to be if I didn't have to be myself.

ESTHER KRABBE, '35.

GREEN CHEESE

Such a life, being me. I wish I were an astronomer and a great scientist, and could create a rocket to shoot me to the moon. I've always yearned for green cheese.

RITA DEERR, '35.

PINK ELEPHANTS

I wish I could be a large Spanish galleon lying at the bottom of an ocean. I should like to control the color of the sea. I wish I could see the people on Mars. Most of all I should like to be a rider of Pink Elephants.

ARTHUR RUSH, '35.

KING SOLOMON

I wish I were a great artist and had the power to paint great masterpieces. I wish I were a great musician, I would like to travel the world over and explore unheard-of places. I would like to have many books. I would like to have been King Solomon. But I have to be the same old person.

MARY ROSE, '35.

NOT SO TRIVIA

How nice to be an explorer, a Columbus, a Byrd; to seek; to find; to conquer; to explore. Or a fly or ant; to live a life of ceaseless struggle. I wish I were a cigar with a core of Poe, a leaf of Shakespeare, with a wrapping of O. Henry. Oh, to be immortal!

GEORGE KAPLAN, '35.

POLKA-DOT PONY

I wish I could be perfect in everything for a short time. I wish I could live everywhere at the same time.

I should like to be a deep-sea diver and a parachute jumper. I should like to live in the ancient days of Chinese civilization and I should like to visit Mars. I'd like to have a polka-dot pony.

KATHERINE PULTZ, '35.

STAMPS

Did you ever stop to think about the drama or the history back of stamps? The first commemorative stamp was made to honor a man who had done a good deal of charitable work in a certain town. The town, which was issuing its own stamps at the time, got out a special stamp to honor this man. The man didn't know anything about it until he was congratulated on the street, after it had been issued. Thus the beginning of commemorative stamps.

Stamp collectors play a big part in world affairs. The second Byrd Antarctic expedition would not have had funds enough if it hadn't been for collectors. The U. S. government issued two different stamps and donated the funds to the expedition. The first was an oversized stamp of the three cent denomination. It was blue and white and had a picture of a globe on it with all of Byrd's expeditions on it. It was perforated and gummed and in sheets of fifty. The second issue was the same design but imperforated, ungummed, and in sheets of six—the smallest sheet of stamps ever issued.

The United States issues postage stamps of the following denominations:  $\frac{1}{2}$ c, 1c,  $1\frac{1}{2}$ c, 2c, 3c, 4c, 5c, 6c, 7c, 8c, 9c, 10c, 11c, 12c, 13c, 14c, 15c, 17c, 20c, 25c, 30c, 50c, \$1, \$2, \$5. Old issues are 90c, \$3, and \$4.

There is a law in the U. S. forbidding any living person to have his portrait on a stamp. The only living man to be honored by a commemorative stamp is Colonel Lindbergh. That was a ten-cent airmail stamp.

George Washington has had his likeness on more than fifty U. S. Stamps.

Who would think that one stamp could be worth $50,000? The first issue of the British Guiana is worth that. There is only one known copy.

"Green Freshies"

As the spring arrives with the green grass springing up and everything beginning to awaken, we realize how September was the springtime of our high-school career. As the spring's most prominent color is green, so it was in Jefferson High School last September. We realize now why we were called "green freshies" by the upperclassmen, but there comes a time when almost everyone must go through that.

When I came to Jefferson in September, I was probably the "greenest freshie" around. Such a queer feeling of loneliness I had never experienced before, but within a week I had acquired many new friends. I, like my friends, found myself a cog in a wheel of thirteen hundred and fifty students, turned by groups of teachers, each filling his duty.

Just being able to attend such an efficient school as Jefferson was enough. Those days of learning the rules of the school and slowly awakening to the fact that hard work and labor was our lot, were made more bearable by the variety of activities presented to us along with our school work. Suddenly we came to the conclusion that high school was not all play.

But, after all, being a freshman in Jefferson High School wasn't as bad as it was deemed to be, and we are joyfully awaiting the arrival of next fall when a new set of "green freshies" will enter this school. We will find many green sprouts under our feet then, and must give to them the same directions we received a year before.

DAY'S END

Dusk—

After the setting sun,
The farmer rests,
His work well done.

Peace—

Through the sweet-scented air
Comes the lowing of cattle,
Contented there.

Happiness—

Gleaned from common things,
Is far more precious
Than the wealth of kings.

President ..... Jack Bogan

Vice-President ..... Charles Weedon

Secretary ..... John Surface

Members at large..... Phil Decker, James Horan

The Athletic Board is composed of five students and five faculty members including the coach and assistant coach. The duties of this board are to supervise and boost athletics. This group and sponsors act in an advisory capacity in the regulation of the financial policy of the association. Each member of this group stimulates interest in the student body in regard to each approaching athletic contest. The members of this board are representative students and have that spirit that is hoped for from each student. They, together with school authorities, make rules of eligibility and supervise the enforcement of these rules. At the end of each year a committee of the board audits the books of the athletic association. The Athletic Board is a live body and has performed its duties sincerely during the school year and should be commended for its excellent rulings and judgment.

TRACK SUMMARY

From Past to Present:

For years Jeff has had its individual track stars, but nothing sensational as a whole. At last, however, under the guidance of that very modest coach, Cecil S. Webb, this longed-for evenly balanced track team has arrived. Last year's squad was perhaps the best group of track athletes that the Bronchos have ever had. Only eight boys were taken to the state meet, but this squad was able to place fifth in the final standing.

Dashes on the Dot:

Jeff's few dash-men have the talent for knowing how to run. Bob Deeter, who by the way has made quite a name for himself, clocks the one hundred yard dash in 10.2 seconds, which, as you know, is stepping fast. His legs work on the pendulum theory, the shorter the faster. Deeter placed fourth in the 100 yard dash in the state meet. Herby McNeil is another dash star who gets there on the dot. It seems as if Deeter and McNeil have come to fill the shoes of our longed-for Sweezy and McQueen.

Track - 1934

H. McNeil, E. Korty, D. McCahan, R. Deeter

RELAY TEAMS

The Broncho's relay teams have been exceptionally strong during the last few years. This is especially true of the one-half mile relay. The 1933 edition placed first in all of the scheduled meets and placed second in the state meet. Deeter, Boone, McNeil and McCahan were the members of this team. The mile relay team was composed of Mike Crowe, Andrews, Hohman, and Holm and placed fourth in the state meet.

ASSORTED MILEAGE

The surprise of the season came when Deeter won the broad jump in the state meet with a leap of 21 feet 6 inches. Several Freshmen and Sophomores began to come to the front before the close of the season. The outstanding ones being Emmet Crowe and Weedon in the dashes, Minton in the 440 yard dash, and Vyverberg in the hurdles. We must not forget to mention Apple in the shot-put, McCahan in the 440 yard dash, and Slayback in the hurdles.

TRIBUTE

A great deal of the success and recognition received by the 1933 track team can be attributed to Robert Deeter. In acknowledgement of his effort, skill, and sportsmanship, we, the Nautilus staff, wish to pay tribute.

GRIDIRON SUMMARY

The Jeff Broncos, having played one of the hardest schedules in years, have finally come through with only one defeat marked against them. This is a very remarkable showing, considering the fact that Jeff had one of the lightest teams in the entire state.

Master's outfit lost a hard-fought game to Kokomo. This being the opening game of the season, made Jeff look as if they would be easily defeated by the remaining teams yet to be played. But as you may see by the summary, Jeff surprised them by defeating the rest of the teams on their schedule by scoring 110 points to their opponents 7 thus prohibiting the rest of the teams on the schedule from scoring on them.

The coaches and teams are to be congratulated at the termination of the successful season, and we all sincerely hope that in the seasons to come the teams will do equally as well.

BASKETBALL SUMMARY

The basketball fans of Indiana watched with interest and admiration, the succession of victories won by Jefferson in the short span of fifteen days during the Christmas season. The stalwart teams, Logansport, Frankfort, Delphi, Lebanon, Connersville and Muncie went down in defeat. Logansport, the state champions, was in this list, and their game with Jefferson will be a memorable one, ending with the score of 28-27.

The Bronchos closed the season with a record of 19 victories and 5 defeats. They also won the Big Four tourney at Lebanon with the utmost ease.

Other teams Jeff defeated were: West Side (ironically enough our sectional champs), Kokomo, Richmond, Crawfordsville, and Greencastle.

And if you can find four other teams as good as Logansport, Anderson, Tech of Indianapolis, and Newcastle, the four conquerors of Jeff during the official season, you'll have to look somewhere else than in this Hoosier State.

Thus, when the official season ended on February 23, with a win over Delphi as the finale of a three-months' campaign which had seen Jeff defeat Lebanon's Tigers 51-21, naturally all signs pointed for Jeff's "greatest little team in thirteen years" to go to the State for the first time in the said thirteen years.

Another item in victory calculations was that Jeff had also defeated Frankfort at Howard Hall. Need we say more?

Then came the sectional!

"Oh, somewhere in this favored land, the sun was shining bright.

The band was playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts were light.

And somewhere men were laughing, and you could hear the children shout—

But there was no joy in our town—for Jefferson lost out."

That game with Battle Ground in the second game of the Sectional was a nightmare. Those eight shots ruined Jeff completely, and the Grounders won, 30-16. But the way those boys of Joy Anderson were playing, it would have taken more than any other team in the state to beat them. Not even Logan or Tech had played the way they did.

Still, the realization of this did not help the feelings of Masters and his boys. Yet in spite of their woe, Lafayette was proud at least to know that other cities (notably Lebanon and West Side) felt that "those Jefferson boys and their coaches were good sports."

Next year's team will miss Captain Mike Crowe, Korty, Bogan, and Miller, but it is hoped that Dickinson, Newton, E. Crowe, Martin, Weedon, and Vyverberg will be able to assuage their grief.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

There is no G. A. A. in Jefferson, but athletics for girls are organized around a point system and awards. "J"'s are given to those who acquire 800 points earned in team games, in supervised and non-supervised sports. The system makes it almost impossible for a girl to earn this award before her Junior year, so to be a "J" girl is a real honor.

Quite an extensive intramural program is carried on. Volley ball, basketball, and tennis are major sports, finishing the instruction and practice season with a tournament. Deck tennis and indoor baseball have become popular in-between-season sports.

Tumbling ranks as a favorite activity. This is the only activity limited to ability. Each member of the team must pass a try-out. This team practices all year, and has appeared in different groups before several of the social clubs of the city.

The aim of the Physical Education Department is to furnish profitable leisure, and give the Jefferson girls good health training. Although only a minimum of time is open to the girls for this training in sports, more than a hundred girls are working to obtain a letter before they graduate.

WHAT THE STARS FORETELL

CAPRICORN

December 23-January 27

Charles Weedon—December 31

Robert Jarka—January 9

Energetic, ambitious and self-centered, but very conservative. As business partner, unsympathetic, but reliable; not generous, but just, accurate to the last detail. Prefers to work alone. Domestic and unable to make a lasting friendship. Writes and speaks eloquently, but without originality. Best companions—Taurus and Virgo.

AQUARIUS

January 28-February 20

June Douglass—January 31

Robert Miller—February 20

An all round person, but specializing in nothing. Fond of imparting knowledge to others. An excellent teacher, a good surgeon and a poor mathematician. Kind, generous, and courageous. Common sense stupendous, but too practical to be visionary. Never gives quick or drastic decisions; too restrained and discreet. Writes fluently and pleasantly, but too superficial to be really good authors. Many bachelors—good public citizen. Best companions—Cancer and Scorpio.

CUSP OF AQUARIUS

February 21-28

Mary McClelland—February 28

Honorable in business and all other relations. Obliging and promising favors at the moment, forgetting them the next. When happily married, are the most joyous of people.

PISCES

February 29-March 22

John Hutzler—March 16

Natural wanderers. Lack concentration and directness. Adaptability to circumstances, and environment may be their salvation. Careless with money. Genial and life of party. Essentially lazy; most domestic. Sub-conscious mind is better mind. Makes a good friend. Best companions—Cancer and Scorpio.

CUSP OF PISCES

March 23-March 29

Alfred Quaintance—March 29

Impressionable, unselfish and domineering. Generous and great business ability.

ARIES

March 30-April 21

Helen Kline—March 31

Muriel Plank—April 18

Energetic, proud, aggressive, self-willed and impulsive. Vast initiative, but lacks persistence. Good conversationalist, and can be depended upon always to provide entertainment. Diplomatic, honest and generous in money matters. More capable than others in public affairs. Can progress, but not change radically. Make excellent orators. Best companions—Leo and Sagittarius.

CUSP OF ARIES

April 22-April 28

Leonard Mull—April 26

Idealistic, practical. Not always physically robust, but have a wiry tenacious nature. Very imaginative.

TAURUS

April 29-May 22

Marjorie Cors—May 13

Nelson Slayback—May 14

A hard sign to overcome. Muscular endurance almost superhuman. Many acrobats. Patient and calm, but when aroused, very excitable. Good for executive positions. Sound, conservative financiers. A loyal and trusting friend. Unless understood, they develop an inferiority complex. Best companions—Virgo and Capricorn.

CUSP OF TAURUS

May 23-June 22

Clarice Speer—May 26

Marjorie Lawson—June 1

Imogine May—June 6

Versatilely gifted. Great thinkers, orators, and inventors. Busy and helpful when interested, but indolent when in poor spirits. Proud, preferring starvation to dependence. When understood are willingly helpful with their blending of spiritual and material qualities.

CUSP OF GEMINI

June 23-July 21

Bill Vaughn—July 16

Self-willed and conceited. Mercurial. Magnetic personality; both brilliant and great talkers, sometimes ardent readers. Conservative, intellectual and affectionate.

CUSP OF CANCER

July 22-July 29

Emerson Scholer—July 29

Super-sensitive, conservative and often over-confident. Deep thinkers, lovers of books. Very domestic.

LEO

July 30-August 24

Ted Oberly—August 20

Nonie Brennen—August 17

All are kind-hearted, generous, sympathetic, idealistic, executive and magnetic. More merciful than just. Prone to anger and to excess pride. Excitable and accessible to flattery. Generous with money and expect same in return. Great optimists. Fairly domestic. Can't harbor a grudge. Likes danger and adventure. In matters of state, bold and sagacious. Happy in responsibility. Best companions—Aries and Sagittarius.

CUSP OF LEO

August 25-September 22
Margaret Ruegamer—September 5
Morton Long—September 22
Dorothy Pfrommer—September 2

Dominant, analytical, intellectual. Excellent teachers, salesmen, and physicians. Very tactful, and rarely offend or disturb.

CUSP OF VIRGO

September 23-October 24
Robert Baxter—October 16
Norman Gamso—October 5
Jim Mackey—October 3
Betty Gougar—October 24

Discriminating and intellectual. The reserve of Virgo is contradicted by the ease and enthusiasm of Libra, making a fascinating character. Always making the best of circumstances. They are ardent lovers and devoted companions.

CUSP OF LIBRA

October 25-November 13
Walter Perry—November 6
Ralph Pinkerton—November 13
Frances Torrena—November 13

Artistic, self-interested and materialistic. The women are excellent cooks and housekeepers. Executive ability.

SCORPIO

November 14-November 23
Kathleen Zentmyre—November 16

Strong will power. Direct to the point. Selfish, critical, skeptical, never compromising. A great seeker of the truth. Excellent physicians. Great organizer. Turns everything to his own account into money. Strictly honest. Powerful and eloquent speakers, sometimes make convincing clergymen. Fond of outdoor sports. Poor business partners. Best companions—Pisces and Cancer.

CUSP OF SCORPIO

November 24-December 22
Karl Mueller—December 12
Elwin Gingrich—December 21
Bob Hildenbrand—December 21
Richard Hildenbrand—December 21

Deep thinkers. Make good teachers. Good conversationalists. Good workers.

1. Our astounding intellectual ability, as was shown by recent honor rolls. (For further enlightenment upon this subject, see the scholastic records made by John Surface, Leon Apple, and Vincent Schrader.)

2. The spirit of sportsmanship and good will, which has a tendency to become greater each succeeding year. (Especially during the basketball season.)

3. Our unwillingness, perhaps inability, to cut classes without detection on the part of the deans.

4. All our concrete property.

On condition that (1) the lower half of the freshman class strives to keep the school building in the proper condition, (we know the freshies will do their best) and (2) on condition that school projects be supported by the student body in the best manner possible, we do hereby direct that each of our descendants, namely, the junior class, the sophomore class, and the freshman class, including those known as "preps," shall each select by mutual consent and in the order named one article from our belongings as a permanent keepsake. Upon distribution of these keepsakes be sure to include William McNeil and Anthony Cavanaugh in the group of underclassmen. Their credits may show them to be seniors, but their conduct—My! My!

Excepting that all our bad traits, such as conceitedness, greed, laziness, and the tendency to be orally noisy, shall first be destroyed under the supervision of Arthur B. Masters, our legal advisor, who is hereby declared executor of the estate without bond. In seeking out these bad traits, remember that no more shining examples can be had than the otherwise perfect characters of Robert Baxter, Theodore Taylor, and Donald Goodman.

We then direct that the treasury be handled by the school itself, and in such a manner as it deems necessary.

The remaining share shall be used to begin a fund for the building of longer stairways for the extremely lazy individuals in the school, such as Helen Kline, thus forcing them to become more energetic. In the course of time this problem shall have reversed itself, at which date we urge that the senior class officers then in power seek a new solution.

And last, we do not direct, but rather hope, that the class of "34" be not forgotten in dear old Jefferson High.

Now You're on Your Way

You're through with school; your teachers have done their very best; life has been mostly play, but now the serious period begins. You're on your way into life and it's entirely up to you to make the best of it. Will you succeed?

It's Quality That Counts

Just as in the business world, the same thing applies to life; "Quality." It isn't so much what you do but how you do it. Anything done in a haphazard way is poorly done, it's the "Quality" in anything that counts!
